FORWARD

It is easy to overlook the obvious, or, as we drive around our beautiful state to overlook the treasures which surround us.

In our Masonic life we do the same. Tucked away just inside the front doorway of 3 Sandy Bay Road is a treasure of Masonic literature. Our past, our present and our future are all locked up in the volumes on the shelf. Unfortunately, too few use them and many give as the excuse that they do not know what is there. I commend this initiative to give everybody details to assist them to properly use this excellent facility which we have.

This brief history of our Masonic library and museum has been provided to me by V.W. Bro. Melville Davis.

"A Library of Masonic Literature was mooted by the Royal Scots Fuziliers Lodge attached to the 21st Regiment when that Lodge No 33 I.C. petitioned to the Grand Lodge of Ireland for their Warrant to remain in V.D.L. in 1837.

Tasmanian Union Lodge, formed in 1844, established a collection of Masonic reading and when Grand Lodge decided in 1894 to establish a Masonic Library, Tasmanian Union Lodge generously transferred their books, and several brethren promised books.

In 1939 the Board of General Purposes accepted the offer of the Freemasons Hall Company Ltd to place a room at the disposal of Grand Lodge Library Committee in the new Temple to house the Masonic Library and to utilise the same for the formation of a Masonic Museum and donated £25.0.0 towards the furnishing.

When Hobart Lodge of Research 62 T.C. was founded in 1948 the Board vested the custody of the Library and Museum with that lodge and allowed the Lodge £25.0.0 annual grant for its maintenance."

Many thanks to those who care for the library and the Public Relations Sub-Committee which has sponsored this catalogue. May they both be well used by our brethren.

C.B. Ward, Grand Master

HOW TO USE THIS CATALOGUE

This catalogue is broken up into seven main categories and four appendices, each category has been allocated 1000 numbers. These categories and appendices are as follows:

- Sacred Books, Histories, Encyclopedias, Reference Books, Jurisprudence
- Research Material, Articles, Lectures
- Authors - alphabetically listed
- Education for Craft Degrees, Lectures, Duties of Officers, Rituals, Music, Poetry
- Craft, Mark, Royal Arch, A-A Rites, Additional Degrees, Rituals, Histories and Constitutions.
- Transactions of Grand Lodges.
- Non Masonic Publications and Disclosures.
- Appendix 1 - Member Certificates.

- Appendix 2 - Miscellaneous documents relating to Lodges and Orders
- Appendix 3 - Details of Contents of Quatuor Coronati Volumes
- Appendix 4 - Details of Contents Lodge of Research Volumes

The user should identify the subject matter he is interested in within these categories, or groups, and then refer to the Index to obtain the number series which covers his requirement.

Each category or group is further sub-divided into sub-listings which will enable the user to narrow down the field in which to find his requirement. Page 5 identifies the Group Numbers and the Number Series covering that Group.

The user, having identified the Group Number, should refer to the first page of that Group which will identify the sub-listing titles and number series of same. By then turning to the page dealing with the numbers of the sub-listing chosen, the user can then select the number of the publication appropriate to his need. The publication can then be found in number sequence on the shelves, in the cupboards, or in the filing cabinets.

It should also be noted that those books listed in Group 3 (Authors) are not cross referenced to the other categories. There may, therefore, be publications in this area covering the subject matter sought by the reader.

Within the Library are a number of books of ancient vintage which are fragile and can only be perused in the Library. These are marked within the catalogue by an asterisk.

There are also certain rituals listed within Group 5 which are only available to those who have the appropriate degrees.

All other books are available for borrowing under the rules outlined in the Catalogues.
